

Mrs. J. W. Harris
San German,
P. R. Rico.

Dear friend:

May I
address you as such? Indeed I do appreciate your cordial words of welcome. They cheered
my home-sick soul.
Right often I have to remind myself that

I am a "grown
woman", supposed
to be able to face
new duties and responsibilities with a smiling face!
But, after all, it is harder to transplant
full-grown trees,
isn't it?

I sincerely thank you for your invitation to visit you
and I am sure
we shall not be

boaths to accept it —
"where the legislature adjourns" ! That seems to be a phrase to conjure with — I hear it from everyone!

Very sincerely

Bertha Lattimore Butte.
San Juan
Puerto Rico.

July 30, 1925